Make up

Your mind...

mastering makeup to increase your bottom line

Welcome.

This is a workshop about makeup. Its' both a practical guide to the basic tenets and techniques of makeup application and celebration of what it means to be a makeup artist – the joy and satisfaction of helping people to look their absolute best.

This is a hands on experience about learning and defining simple beauty. I have always sought to empower women and men to find and define their own beauty. Part of this mission naturally involves educating and mentoring others on the art of makeup application. Throughout the twenty years or so that I've been practicing as a makeup artist, I have worked with – and learned from – some of the true masters in the industry. And yet I am still a student of my craft. The desire for new techniques and ideas keeps me fresh and excited about this dynamic profession and industry. I hope you, too, want to soak up as much information and experience as you can. This workshop will help to expand your knowledge, boost your confidence – and teach you a few new, fun tricks along the way.

This workshop is for all of us. Thanks to such publications as Les Nouvelles Esthetiques, and luminaries like Dr. Pugliese, Mark Lees, and Marvin Westmore, our industry is gaining more respect. With that come higher demands, greater competition, and savvier clients. By seeking the finest educational experiences, you are demonstrating that you are ready to meet any challenges ahead and are empowered to elevate our industry to the next level.

Delight in the learning experience... and apply yourself!

Wishing you every success!
